CARR-319 Crumbacker/Graves House
3465 Uniontown Road

3465 Uniontown Road was also part of the Abraham Crumbacker estate. The cabinet-maker Glazier purchased the house and later sold it to Reverend Diedrich Graves, who was pastor of St. Lucas Reformed Church. According to Dr. J. J. Weaver, Jr., Reverend Graves served at St. Lucas Reformed Church from 1820-1825. Later owners were Hannah Yon and John Eckard. This structure also has the offset entrance bay on the main facade. The windows have been enlarged, and there is a late nineteenth century porch running the full-length of the main facade. However, you can still distinguish some early features of the house from the exterior, such as the broad brick chimney on the east gable end. The roof line appears to make an unusual "kick" at its lower edge, which is a feature found in early log construction of German settlers in Pennsylvania. The "kick" was formed by the shape of the rafters as they connected with the plate and was designed to carry rainwater away from the weatherboards on the facades.
